ARBORICULTURAL TREE CONTRACTORS

IMPORTANT:

- The contractors included on this list have demonstrated/indicated an ability to work to British Standard 3998 for tree work.
- All have been trained to at least NPTC level
- Those who are qualified will hold a Cert Arb/National Diploma/BSc in Arboriculture
- Those with QTRA after their name are licensed to use Quantified Tree Risk Assessment and/or National Qualification for Professional Tree Inspection
- Inclusion on the list does not give any contractor the right to claim formal recommendation from the local authority.
- When you employ a tree contractor you are the client, not the local authority
- The local authority cannot be held responsible/liable for any dispute, which may arise between you as the client and the contractor.
- The local authority cannot intervene or mediate in a dispute between you as a client and a contractor.
- All tree contractors should have a minimum of third party liability insurance cover appropriate for the services they offer.
- Inclusion on the list of contractors is not proof that any contractor is adequately insured.
- You must always check with the local authority to ascertain whether trees on your land are protected.
- Any tree work on protected trees requires written consent from the local authority.

ARBORICULTURAL CONSULTANTS

- An arboricultural consultant is someone who is qualified in arboriculture

- An arboricultural consultant will be qualified and experienced in tree management, assessment and interpretation of tree health, pest/disease symptoms and tree legislation

- An arboricultural consultant will be covered by professional indemnity insurance

- Whist an aboricultural consultant may not undertake tree work he/she will provide a schedule and specification for tree work and may supervise tree contracts if required

- For insurance/mortgage purposes you may be required to have trees in your ownership inspected in which case an arboricultural consultant would give advice and a written report which should be retained as proof as having had your trees inspected
