Dear Mr Dagnall,

Further to our telephone conversation earlier today.

I note that at the top of p37 it is stated that there are 116 sites of ancient Woodland. 7 lines further down it is stated that there are 76 sites.

I note that in the Historic sites section, also on p37, that there are apparently 23 Scheduled Ancient Monuments. The paragraph goes on to indicate 26 sites (3 parishes x 4, 1 parish x 3 and 11 x 1). (I initially said to you 29 sites, but I had classed Bailey and Chaigley as 2 parishes). I thought that I had 2 SAMs, one in Downham and one in Twiston. This would bring the total to 28. Maybe my sites have been de-listed?

While writing, I wondered why on p36 in the National Parks and Nature Conservation section only the area of Local Nature reserves was given when the area of BHSs and SSSIs would give a better impression of the vast area that has nature conservation constraints upon it. This goes without including SAC and SPA sites.
