I object to the building of more homes in Clitheroe -

New developments of substantial size will put pressure on existing refuse collections.

1,670 new homes equals 4,024 extra people living in Clitheroe, all seeking medical care.

There is no confirmation that Clitheroe Hospital will be upgraded or developed and no plans to increase GP practices.

The 1,670 new homes in Clitheroe will need a school but there are no plans to build one.

RVBC acknowledge there are significant implications at the Standen Estate site for education.

Their response is that LCC holds the responsibility for providing adequate Primary school places.

LCC is unable to provide greater detail of available money for education as funding is only known until 2014.
