CORE STRATEGY 10 JUN 2012

We have heard on several occasions of Her Majesty the Queen's admiration for the Ribble Valley and we now hear that the opening ceremony of the Olympics will depict very strongly the English Countryside.

The "English Countryside" is THE JEWEL.

The Ribble Valley and the strategy of the Ribble Valley are in conflict and in this conflict does nothing to enhance it. In fact it helps to destroy it.

It is far too long, too much detail which is not needed and it can itself be improved. It has been mainly compiled by those who do not live in the Ribble Valley. If this is correct I suspect they do not recognise "Our Jewel" and the whole thing needs a complete fresh beginning.

Think again.

Yours faithfully